

AIS

LEAD PHYSICIAN – AIS MEDICAL OPERATIONS

Expressions of interest close 19 September, 2019

AIS Medicine is seeking expressions of interest for a full-time SEM Physician (FACSEP) to lead Medical Operations on the AIS Canberra campus. In consultation with the CMO, you will provide leadership in the provision of high quality interdisciplinary sports medicine care to athletes and teams across a variety of sports. You will oversee the application of ethical, contemporary and evidence-based sports medicine practice, with the aim of preventing injury/illness and optimising athlete availability. You will contribute to research and best practice guidelines, aligned with AIS strategic objectives.

Key Roles

Lead medical input into the intensive rehabilitation program, managing complex cases on behalf of high performance partner organisations.

Supervise medical and nursing staff and oversee the training of SEM Registrars.

Contribute to provision of medical services to travelling teams and athletes based at the AIS European Training Centre.

Embrace a mixture of musculoskeletal and general medicine exposure which includes access to state of the art in-clinic ultrasound.

Other Information

- ✓ Access to; free parking, pool and gymnasium
- ✓ Access to online journal article retrieval service
- ✓ Generous salary ($200k - 215k p/a) and superannuation
- ✓ Four weeks paid annual leave and four weeks paid personal leave
- ✓ Support for conference attendance & professional development
- ✓ Be a part of a convivial (and well fed!) AIS Medicine Team

For further information, or to apply for this position, please contact;

Dr David Hughes, Chief Medical Officer, Australian Institute of Sport

E: david.hughes@ausport.gov.au T: +61 2 6214 1253 M: +61 408 815 779